Virginia Cavalcade

CONTENTS OF VOLUME 51 • WINTER 2002–AUTUMN 2002

Number One, Winter 2002

THOMAS JEFFERSON'S MODEL FOR THE CAPITOL OF VIRGINIA: A New Understanding
F. Carey Howlett 4

JEFFERSON'S CAPITOL AND CAPITOL SQUARE: An Edifice of First Rate Dignity
James E. Wootton 16

THE CAPITOL SQUARE THAT NEVER WAS
Selden Richardson 24

THOMAS JEFFERSON'S POPLAR FOREST: Privacy Restored
Travis C. McDonald 26

THOMAS JEFFERSON AND THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA: Maintaining the Vision
James Murray Howard 36

Number Two, Spring 2002

TO FOLLOW HER DEPARTED FRIEND: The Last Years of Martha Washington
Mary V. Thompson 52

VIRGINIAN TO THE GRAVE: A Portrait of the Commonwealth's Graveyards and Memorial Art
J. Daniel Pezzoni 62

THE RESTORATION OF A MONARCH: Virginia's Portrait of Queen Elizabeth I
Tracy L. Kamerer 72

THE JOURNALISTIC APPRENTICESHIP OF JAMES BRANCH CABELL, VIRGINIA LITERARY GREAT
Sam G. Riley 76

FROM ANTEBELLUM FARM TO TWENTY-FIRST-CENTURY MUSEUM: Lee Hall Mansion, Newport News
Sarah M. Goldberger and J. Michael Moore 84

Number Three, Summer 2002

WHY DON'T YOU ROCK MY SOUL: The African-American Quartet Tradition in Hampton Roads
Vaughan Webb 100

ON THE BEACH OF WAIKIKI: Hopewell's Tubize Royal Hawaiian Orchestra
Gregg D. Kimball and Ron T. Curry 112

WE DON'T SING LIKE THAT NOW: Bela Lam and His Greene County Singers
David E. Nealon 124

RECORDING AND RADIO: WRVA and the 1929 Richmond OKeh Sessions 136

Number Four, Autumn 2002

DANIEL C. O'FLAHERTY, 1862–1929: Ireland's Good Friend
James C. O'Flaherty 148

FROM STONE TO STEEL: The Powhatan Indians and European Technology
Lisa L. Heuvel 160

WHEN CONEY ISLAND ARRIVED IN RICHMOND: Leisure in the Capital at the Turn of the Twentieth Century
Michael Ayers Trotti 168

I HAVE FOUND THAT HAPPINESS CONSIST NOT IN RICHES: Anne and John Pryor, Divorce in Antebellum Virginia
Thomas E. Buckley, S.J. 180